PRESIDENT COMES ON NOVEMBER 23

Will Be Guest of Governor Mann During His Stay in Richmond.

Educational workers in charge of the arrangements for the Virginia Educational Conference are much elated over the promise of President Taft to deliver an address. They feel sure that his coming will add a great deal of interest to the meeting, and will insure a larger attendance.

The President has written Governor Mann that he expects to be here on November 23, and it is presumed that he has more definite knowledge as to the time of his arrival than he had when the committee waited on him. While in Richmond, which it is expected will be only for a few hours, the President will be the guest of Governor and Mrs. Mann at the Executive Mansion.

Naturally the President will be anxious to eat his Thanksgiving dinner at his home, and will hurry to Washington after his speech here. He may have some interesting things to say in Richmond regarding his trip to Panama.

BRUTAL ASSAULT ON BROAD STREET

John B. Davis Attacked in Front of Pool Room by Four Men and Knocked Unconscious.

John B. Davis, of 507 South Belvidere Street, was set upon by four men in front of a pool room on Broad Street, between Seventh and Eighth, last night, and so severely beaten about the head and face that he lay in a comatose state for more than half an hour. His assailants fled, after knocking him down against the curb and rendering him unconscious, and he was picked up and carried into the Tarrant & Grant drug store, Seventh and Broad Streets. There he was treated by a doctor, and his wounds were bandaged. He is now in the hospital, and is expected to recover.

According to the story told by several eyewitnesses, the attack was of the most brutal nature. Davis, he says, had been previously attacked by the same men at the corner of Ninth and Franklin Streets. He afterwards followed them to the pool room, and there he was attacked. One man acted as a sort of referee, instead of attempting to stop the fight. Finally, the Greek caught Davis's head between his legs, and then hammered him unmercifully, finally knocking him down. His head struck the curb, and he became unconscious.

His wounds were found, on examination, to be serious, and he was taken home. All his assailants escaped.

FIRST REGIMENT HAS ASSOCIATION

Preliminary Meeting Held and Working Committees Are Appointed.

Temporary organization of a First Regiment Association, to occupy the same relationship towards the First Infantry as that held by the Blues' Association toward the Blues, was accomplished last night at a meeting held at the Westmoreland Club.

Dr. George Ben Johnston was chosen as chairman of the meeting, and Captain George N. Skipwith acted as secretary.

It was determined that the ex-members of the First Regiment should be formed into an association. This body is to be advisory and is to assist in every way in its power in building up the regiment. It must approve the election of officers before they are ratified, and it is expected that it will be of the greatest benefit.

Committees Named.

A committee on membership was appointed, composed of Colonel Joseph V. Bidgood, L. T. Christian and T. J. Jeter. Another committee, consisting of General Charles J. Anderson, Chas. J. Johnson, J. M. Metcalf, W. E. Gassner, O. Saville and Captain G. N. Skipwith, was named to formulate a constitution and by-laws.

The meeting thereupon adjourned to await the report of these committees, and will be called together again about the end of the month by Dr. Johnston for permanent organization. Much interest was shown in the movement, and there is every indication that it will be a success.

Among those present last night were: General Charles J. Anderson, R. E. Norvell, Dr. George Ben Johnston, L. T. Christian, C. O. Saville, George N. Skipwith, J. M. Metcalf, W. E. Gassner, Joseph V. Bidgood, Captain Miller and T. L. Jeter.

POLICE COURT CASES

The case against G. N. Condit, white, charged with assaulting Gay Al. French in the former's restaurant on East Broad Street, was continued in the Police Court yesterday morning to November 16. He was bailed in the sum of $500. The case against Al. French, charged with carrying a pepper-shaker at Condit's, was continued to the same date.

John Johnson, colored, charged with striking a butcher knife from A. Farman, was sentenced to sixty days in jail, and on the charge of carrying a concealed weapon he was fined $100 and placed under $100 security for twelve months.

The case against Thomas Brown, white, charged with breaking into the store of the E. C. Company, 22 East Broad Street, was continued to November 16.

Charles Nelson, colored, charged with stealing $15 from John P. Pouchy, was sentenced to sixty days in jail.

NO SITE SELECTED

Westminster Presbyterian Will Erect Hand-Some Structure.
Pledges from members of the congregation amounting to more than half the sum to erect the proposed new church were placed before the building committee of Westminster Presbyterian Church last night. The committee after discussing some suggested plans of action came to the conclusion that the amount to be raised should be no less than $25,000. With the money promised, as a nucleus, it was decided to push the campaign forward as rapidly as possible. Every member is expected to give something, and there are many assurances of outside assistance. The committee consists of twenty-four members, made up of the deacons, elders and members. Twenty-five were present last night.

Meetings for the new church will be held every Friday night until after all the money is raised and the last plan for the building completed. The next points to be considered will be the location and the style of structure. William Walters is chairman of the committee.

Arrested for Stealing Stove.

John Smith, colored, was arrested last night on a charge of breaking into the home of Lattie Harper, 201 Creek Street, and stealing therefrom her stove and pipes. The stove was new and had not been set up.

READY TO FLASH

Skyrockets and Telephone Will Keep Thousands Constantly Advised To-Night.

RED IS DEMOCRATIC COLOR

Signals on the Hour for New York and on Half Hour for Ninth District.

How to Get News

Call Monroe 1 to-night, and when the switchboard operator answers, tell him that you want to find out about the election. He will shift you instantly to one of the many special telephones where a special operator will sit with the latest bulletins. Don't ask for individual names—simply let it be known that you want election news, and you will be supplied for the time being. There are nearly 12,000 telephones in this city, and it is expected that the majority of these will be in use during the early part of the night, all straining and straining late in the evening and election information in Richmond.

Unless all predictions are wrong, there ought to be constant streaks of red fire shooting skyward from the top of the American National Bank Building to-night. Red is the Democratic color. Careful students of politics say it is the color of the South and red for the Southwest—that militant district where Henry C. Stuart Bascom Slomp is fighting violently for congressional election.

With all of the advertising which the national election has been getting lately, it did seem a bit strange last night when the battle was being fought by the telephone to find out who had been elected in New York. It rather indicates that some Richmond voters will not be on the job to-day.

May Get Results Early.
To-day's the day and to-night's the night. The battle will be decided; to-night the result will be known. That great big State of New York will probably send forth the news early in the evening. So at 10 o'clock the first skyrockets will flash from the skyscraper. If the early returns indicate the election of John A. Dix, Democrats for Governor, the colored signal to flash through the night air as the clock strikes will be red. If those same early returns point to the victory of Charles D. Smith, the signal will be blue. At 7 o'clock the Republicans have the lead in the preliminary count. But if there is nothing definite, a white rocket will be used to indicate results on the hour mean that Dix has won; double yellows mean that Stuart has won.

The first Ninth District signals will be fired at 8:30 o'clock, by which time it is expected that the Southwest will be sending in the news. The next blue skyrockets are scheduled to perform at 9:30, and so on, on the half hour. Two reds on the half will bring the great tidings that Stuart goes to Congress.

Telephone News for All.
But while the signals will keep thousands of people correctly informed, other means will be used to advise other thousands, and to-night the telephone will demonstrate its ability under emergency pressure. Nine trunk lines will run from the telephone exchange on East Grace Street into the Times-Dispatch Building to connect with the private switchboard. The switchboard operator will call the "Monroe 1" calls, juggle his trunks, and shoot the information—over the telephone—where operators will be supplied with the latest returns. An expert will work at a desk with bulletins from the city, and will be kept in the front of him. Just as quickly as he will write it on a slip, pass it to the operator, who in turn will deliver it over the wires to the curious multitude.

Expected Big Rush.
Manager Albert S. Tanner, of the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, has made special efforts to expedite the election service. He will detail his best operators to handle the election night service, and he expects that in using the telephone instead of a stereopticon display it can serve the large number of people with less inconvenience.

Mr. Tanner says there is one telephone to every nine persons in Richmond. His records show that on election night the service is pushed, and he is prepared to-night to handle all calls in a manner which will bring great credit on the company he represents.

The key to the rocket service is printed on the bottom of the first page. Cut it out, and use it for reference. The yellow signal is substituted for blue, as it was impossible to secure blue rockets. F. F. Wanner, manager of the Petersburg (Va.) plant of the National Fireworks Distributing and Manufacturing Company, will have personal charge of the display.

NEW MANUAL ISSUED

Compact Volume Gives Large Amount of Municipal Data.
City Clerk Ben T. August issued to members of the Council last night a copy of the new manual of the City Council, neatly bound in leather, with the names of the members stamped on the covers. The manual contains a list of the members of the Council, of the Council, with the officers, and a list of the joint standing committees, with their time and place of meeting. It also contains a list of the municipal boards, district physicians, city courts and their officers and terms; for payment of licenses and taxes; fire alarm boxes, rates of postage, calendar and the current and next two years' list of municipal telephones, and other data of great value. Copies for members of the Council are being distributed from the binder in time for the meeting on Tuesday night of next week.

Building Permit.
A permit was issued yesterday in the office of the Building Inspector to Stephen A. Ellison, contractor, to repair a coal hoist on the south side of Dock Street between Sixth and Seventeenth Streets, to cost $20.

Major Hemphill to Address Bankers.
Richmond-Chapman, American Institute of Banking, will meet in its rooms in the City Bank Building on Thursday night at 8:30 o'clock. Major J. C. Hemphill has been invited to make an address.

Chamber Smoker Postponed.
Because of the inability of two prominent speakers to be in the city this week, the Chamber of Commerce smoker, which was scheduled to take place Thursday night, has been postponed to Tuesday, November 22. The chamber will also consider a program for the opening of Richmond's great white way, with the idea of making the occasion such as to attract visitors to the city.

JUDGE WILLIAMS HALTED TO COURT

Attorney-General of Virginia Sued for Rent of Campaign Typewriter.

ATTACKS THE CONSTITUTION

R. F. & P. Railway Says Franchise Tax Is Impairment of Contract.

Claiming that he had so far failed to pay for the rent of a typewriter much used during his campaign for office, more than a year ago, suit was instituted against Attorney-General Samuel W. Williams yesterday by the Underwood Typewriter Company, for $24.50. The suit was originally brought in the court of Civil Justice Turpin. Judge Williams pleaded lack of jurisdiction. The case is now before the City Circuit Court, where it will come up on its merits. The papers in the case were filed by Judge Williams, agreeing to pay a monthly rental of $3.50, the contract being indorsed with a number of payments at intervals. The typewriter company claims seven additional monthly payments, and brings suit through Attorney George C. Fitzhugh.

Opens November Term.
The City Circuit Court opened its November term yesterday with Judge R. Carter Scott on the bench. A number of cases were set for trial. A petition was filed by the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad Company, against the State Corporation Commission and Attorney General Samuel W. Williams. The railroad petitions the court to correct by a decree an alleged erroneous assessment and ascertainment of franchise tax for the year 1910, amounting to $23,134.33, claiming that under its charter it is exempt from franchise taxation. The petition asserts that the act of the General Assembly of April 16, 1910, and article thirteen of the Constitution of Virginia of 1902, are null and void, and in conflict with section 10 of article one of the Constitution of the United States prohibiting any act of Legislature impairing the obligation of a contract.

May Go to Supreme Court.
As a result of which will occur each year with the assessment of the franchise tax by the Corporation Commission, and as it involves the validity of the Virginia Constitution, the case, it will be hotly contested, attorneys on either side admitting that the case will probably be a final settlement without appeal from the United States Supreme Court.

The suit of Lattisette Blackburn, an infant, against her next friend, Anna Tillery, against the city of Richmond, for damages in the sum of $2,000, was docketed on motion of the plaintiff's attorney, at the cost of the defendant.

Miss Blackburn claims that on August 19, 1918, while walking along the sidewalk on Louisiana Street, in the city limits, she stumbled and fell over a metal can of a sewer or gas work which had been placed on the sidewalk. She claims that her $100,000 worth of jewelry was damaged, and that she was injured. She claims that the city is liable for the damage, and that she is entitled to $2,000. The action has been docketed, and the defendants filed certain affidavits.

Motion for Judgment.
In the case of J. H. Winston, trustee, against Charles B. Bryan, notice of motion for judgment was docketed. In the case of F. C. Christian against John A. Lamb and P. H. C. Cabell, receivers, notice of motion for judgment was docketed, and the defendants filed certain affidavits.

Receiver Will Continue.
At a meeting of True Reformers held last night, it was decided to allow the receiver of the savings bank of True Reformers to stand, and to let matters take their legal course. It is still hoped that with the assets of the bank, which are being sold, the insurance society may continue in business.

WATER WORKS FOR HIGHLAND PARK

Contracts Awarded for Part of Plant, to Cost $45,000 Complete.

Contracts were awarded by the Highland Park Town Council last night for a complete system of water works, which will cost when completed $45,000. The contract for the wells, trenches, pump and pump house went to I. J. Smith & Company, of this city, for $4,885. The Morgan Pipe and Iron Company, of Lynchburg, was the lowest bidder on the hydrants, pipes and valves, which will amount to about $25,000. Contracts for the engines, pumps and tanks were not awarded.

The Highland Park citizens have been working on this water works plan for more than a year, and now believe that they are to have one of the most complete suburban water systems in the South. The source of supply will be a number of shallow wells, from which the water will be pumped by two engines capable of lifting 750 gallons per minute into a tank of 100,000 gallons capacity, which is to be elevated 100 feet from the ground. The system was arranged by Colonel C. P. E. Burroughs of this city.

The contractors will begin within the next ten days, and promise to rush the work. The Virginia Railway and Power Company will begin in the next few days to erect poles for lighting the town with electricity.

LUBIN'S OPENING HALTED BY BECK

Crowd Waiting Outside to See New Vaudeville Theatre Had to Wait in Vain

By order of Building Inspector Beck, Electrical Inspector Speights and Chief Joyner, of the Fire Department, the Lubin Theatre was not permitted to open its new addition or the gallery yesterday. Inspection by the officers showed that the building was incomplete in several details, and it probably will take at least two days to complete the work.

A short time before the matinee yesterday afternoon application was made to the Building Inspector to permit the opening, which had been widely advertised, but noting the unfinished condition of the structure, each of the three inspectors refused to grant the request.

As a large crowd had gathered, verbal permission was given to use the main auditorium, the old part of the building, for the rest of the matinee time, and one act was put on. Last night a temporary permit was made for the management to use that portion of the theatre, the new electrical fixtures on the stage having been tested and found safe by the inspectors. Manager Galeski, of the Lubin, stated last night that he had assurances from the contractors that his house would be completed in every detail by tomorrow night.

Must Make Changes.
Inspector Beck found the addition, the capacity of which is about 150 seats, to be in an unfinished condition and certain parts of the concrete construction not sufficiently set to be safe.

The new stairway leading to the gallery has not clearance enough and must be partially cut out overhead, and the addition must be made safe by the use of the old part of the building. The completion of the electrical system has been delayed, it is said, because an important portion of the equipment has been held up by New York City expressmen's strike.

Manager Galeski said last night that when application for the permit was made he was not aware that the defects pointed out by the inspectors existed. He was satisfied with the building, and he thought it was for the house open, although he could not accommodate all of the crowd that sought admittance.

Must Be Satisfied.
"I am thoroughly satisfied," said Mr. Galeski, "with the position taken by Mr. Beck and the other inspectors, for I realize that it is for the safety of the public. I am quite as anxious as the city officers to be certain that no one assumes the slightest risk on entering my theatre. We will continue to run in the main auditorium until everything is completed to the satisfaction of Mr. Beck and the other inspectors. I am told that another day's work will finish the job. At all events, I think it safe to say that all will be completed by Wednesday night."

The wide publicity given the "Great Lubin" announcing that yesterday would be opening day, had attracted a large crowd, which stood in an ever-lengthening line for hours last night waiting admittance. All that could be done was to let them in at the house was full, and then put on the show.

Where is Bryan Shannon?
Niece in Ireland Writes She Is Anxious to Communicate With Him.
Major Werner yesterday received a letter of inquiry from Ireland, as to the present whereabouts of Bryan Shannon, who is believed to have once lived in Richmond. The writer, who is a niece of Shannon, is very anxious to get into contact with him, though she does not state the reason. The letter is from Bellegrave, Duncormick, County Wexford, Ireland, and the girl signs herself as E. E. Shannon. It is believed that Bryan Shannon was born in Duncormick, County Wexford, Ireland.

WHAT FLAG SHALL GO ON MONUMENT?

Some Favor Flag of Virginia and Others That of the Confederacy.

Shall the battleflag of the Confederate States or the flag of Virginia be wrought in stone in the hands of the standard-bearer on the Gettysburg monument? The people of Virginia are asked to give their opinion on the subject.

The Gettysburg Monument Commission is now engaged in making final determination as to what shall and what shall not be placed on the monument. Around the base of the statue, of the Virginia soldiers who fought which is to commemorate the deeds of the service, representing a branch of the service. The cavalryman is depicted as bearing a flag. The tentative plan drawn shows him to have a Virginia flag, with the "Sic Semper Tyrannis" visible.

It is understood that the commission is divided on the proposition, some of the members thinking a Confederate battleflag should be used.

An expression of opinion from the people of the State, and especially from the Confederate veterans, is desired, through the press or in personal letters to any member of the commission. Letters on the subject may be written to either Governor William Hodges Mann, Richmond; Colonel Thomas Smith, Warrenton; Major H. A. Edmondson, Houston; Captain Stephen P. Read, Palmer's Spring; or Colonel Gordon McCabe, Richmond. It is believed the newspapers will be glad to publish communications on the subject.

Preparations for the details of the monument are proceeding. The last publication of names of officers at the battle will be made on Sunday, November 27, after which all papers will go to the commission for its final decision. A resolution was recently adopted by the commission urging that Virginia join in the national movement for celebration of the battle on the ground at the fiftieth anniversary, July 1 to 3, 1917.

Date of Unveiling.
It is hardly likely, however, that the Virginia monument will be unveiled at that time. The work will be ready to favor a decision in the summer or autumn of that year, presumably in the autumn. It is pointed out that with an independent date the affair would be of national significance and would attract universal attention, while if it were held during the anniversary celebration it would be a mere incident, and the graceful tribute of the State to its soldiers would pass almost unnoticed.

An effort will probably be made to have the next Legislature appropriate a sum of money to pay the transportation expenses of the veterans of the battle in this State to attend the unveiling. Last year, when the Pennsylvania monument at Cold Harbor was unveiled, that State gave free transportation to Richmond to all the veterans who had taken part in the battle.

EBY SEEN HIS WIFE

Latter Calls at Henrico County Jail for Short Conversation.
At the Henrico county jail yesterday morning, Abram C. Eby saw his wife, who had been in the Federal prison at Atlanta more than a year ago. She brought a letter of introduction from the warden of the jail, who removed the prisoner to another cell so that the conversation might not be overheard by the other prisoners. The wife, who is a Quaker, was in the jail for a short time.

Mrs. Eby remained in the jail for about an hour, and then departed without having anything to say except to thank the warden for his kindness. It was reported that her visit had bearing on her husband's attempt to get bail, but this is not thought likely. One of the accused are amply able to put up the required amount, $1,000, but it is known that after the trial, which is expected to be held in a few days, the conclusion that it would be better policy to allow him to remain in jail until after his trial before Judge Waddell. If the railroad which he threatened to blow up does not interfere, there is but little doubt that the government will agree to let him prosecute the present case charging him with fraudulent use of the mails.

Grand Jury Indictments.
The Norfolk County grand jury presented the following indictments yesterday: Frank Branch and Charles Christian, housebreaking; Harrison Brown, robbery; A. M. and Walter L. Bibb, malicious wounding; George Bradley, housebreaking; Alfred G. Bolton, robbery; Robert Ford, malicious wounding; Thomas L. Bibb, malicious wounding; Thomas Lightfoot, malicious wounding; Aaron Logan, housebreaking; Moses Price, malicious wounding; Thomas Richardson, murder; George Smith, malicious wounding; James Turpin, carabking.
